

KINK ZONE

KINKZONE RULES OF CONDUCT/PLAY :

Please have a read before attending our event/s:

Kink Zone is a "safe space" for our members and guests. While we may have a kink in common, we may have different levels of comfort. We expect all members and guests to follow these rules at all our events and functions

RULES & ETIQUETTE

- No means NO. Consent is the core value of our establishment that we insist upon.
- Please do NOT touch without asking politely.
- No means NO. Always practice safe sex. Condoms are provided for your use.
- Always ask permission to join play and be respectful.
- Be mindful of others around you. Ensure you have space for your scene before you start. Alternatively, do NOT interrupt a scene in progress. When using equipment, clean it once you have finished. We provide disinfectant wipes and sprays for this.
- Taking photos is NOT allowed. Taking photos is only allowed if you gain permission from all individuals first. This includes anyone that could potentially be visible in the background. We suggest taking photos against a wall as a backdrop to avoid any issues.
- This is a private event. For everyone's benefit we would like to keep it that way. We insist that you do not discuss it on social media or in public forums.
- Treat other people with respect and consideration at all times. Get to know them as you would in any other social situation.

KINK ZONE

- Don't assume that the only worthwhile outcome of attending is a sexual encounter &/or relationship.
- Don't assume that people want to discuss sexual or kinky issues with you- ask first.

- Everyone's personal identity is confidential, so please be mindful of the people's privacy.
- No soliciting for sexual services is allowed.
- Our Team are there to supervise and will stop any scene or behaviour they consider to be unsafe or inappropriate.
- Should you have a concern, complaint or issue please raise it with one of our trusted Team members immediately.
- We reserve the right to ask anyone to leave at any time if we as the organisers feel there is a risk to the safety of our other guests or our staff.
- Disrespectful behaviour, uninvited advances and non-consensual touching will not be tolerated - any violations of these rules or making others feel uncomfortable or unsafe will be met with swift ejection from the venue, and if necessary intervention by authorities.
